BNP Paribas Real Estate Property Management strengthens its international governance

- Csongor Csukas appointed International Director of Operations -

- Mathieu Darras appointed International Director, Business Processes Engineering and Control -

"BNP Paribas Real Estate’s Property Management business line had a very busy year in 2013, particularly featuring the acquisition of Imoplan in Germany and Aberdeen Asset Management’s Property Management activities in the Netherlands," explains Lauric Leclerc, Chairman of BNP Paribas Real Estate Property Management. "The appointments of Csongor Csukas and Mathieu Darras, two seasoned professionals with complementary areas of expertise, mark a new stage in the BNP Paribas Real Estate Property Management expansion strategy in Europe."

Csongor Csukas, 35, joins BNP Paribas Real Estate headquarters as International Director of Operations for the Property Management activity, retaining his role as CEO for Hungary.

Reporting to Lauric Leclerc, Csongor Csukas will directly coordinate Property Management teams in all countries in which the business operates, except for France, Germany and the United Kingdom. He is also responsible for managing business development for the Property Management business line, as well as coordinating international calls for tenders.

Csongor Csukas is a graduate of the Budapest University of Technology and Economics and of the Budapest University of Economic Sciences and Public Administration. He also holds a Master in East-West Industrial Project Management from ENSAM (Arts et Métiers ParisTech).

Csongor began his career in 2002 with BFM Facility Management (a subsidiary of PBW Hungary) where he was Managing Director from 2004 to 2008. In 2008, he was appointed Administrative and Financial Director and Deputy CEO of PBW Hungary.

Since 2010, Csongor has been CEO for Hungary and the Czech Republic, and Head of Property Management at BNP Paribas Real Estate in Romania.

Mathieu Darras, 41, has been appointed International Director, Business Processes Engineering and Control

Reporting to Lauric Leclerc, Mathieu Darras will be coordinating the launch and supervision of the business line’s industrialisation projects. The goal is to improve organisations’ efficiency using IT tools and process optimisation. He is also responsible for supervising internal control.
Mathieu is an electrical engineer graduated from ENSEEIHT and holds an MBA from HEC Paris. He was previously a Senior Consultant with Ernst & Young from 1998 to 2002 and started his own business from 2002 to 2004, before becoming a manager with Akéance Consulting from 2004 to 2006.

Mathieu Darras joined BNP Paribas Real Estate Property Management in 2006. From 2009, he was Director of Operations and Projects for the Property Management activity in France. He modernised IT tools and achieved a significant improvement in business processes.

With operations now in 14 countries and more than 50 cities, the BNP Paribas Real Estate Property Management business line has more than 34 million sq m of tertiary property under management and employs almost 800 staff.
